Every answer carries the reason behind it. Read the reason for the questions you got right as well — that is where you find out whether you were right for the right reason.

A. Multiple choice

1. B) She — Her name tells you the person is female, so the subject pronoun is she.
2. C) He — Father is one male person, so he replaces the noun in the second sentence.
3. C) It — It replaces a singular thing. English does not give ordinary objects a gender.
4. B) We — Anna and I means we — whenever you are inside the group, the pronoun is we.
5. D) They — Grandparents is plural and does not include the speaker, so they is correct.
6. B) He is a doctor. — English always needs a subject, and the subject form is he — him and his cannot start a sentence as the subject.
7. A) you — Speaking directly to someone requires you, whether you are addressing one person or several.
8. C) It — A train is a thing, so it takes it — even though many languages give vehicles a gender.
9. C) They — Two named people who do not include the speaker are they.
10. A) I — The subject pronoun I is always written with a capital letter, and me is the object form.

B. Fill in the blank

1. She — Mother is one female person, so she replaces the noun in the next sentence.
2. It — A phone is a thing, so the pronoun is it.
3. They — Two people who do not include the speaker are they.
4. I — The speaker is I, and it is always capitalised in English.
5. He — Brother is one male person, so he is the subject pronoun.
6. We — Any group that includes the speaker becomes we.
7. you — You is the pronoun for the person being spoken to directly.
8. They — Shops is plural, so plural things take they.

C. Sentence building

1. She works in a bank.
2. They live near the station.
3. I speak three languages.
4. He has two brothers.
5. It is my favourite song.
